COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course examines the interface of lifespan human development (biological, emotional, intellectual, spiritual and social) with the social and cultural environment in which people live, with application for social work practice.

PREREQUISITES

Admission to BSW program

EQUIVALENCY OR TRANSFERABILITY

For information about the transferability of this course, please contact the Bachelor of Social Work office.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of the course, students will have gained:

- An understanding of the complex interplay of biological, psychological, social, and cultural forces that influence human development, as a foundation to providing social work assessments.
- Critical thinking skills in applying theoretical perspectives and research findings to social work practice.

- Awareness of issues related to human development and behaviour over the lifespan.
- Capacity to recognize personal developmental experiences and biases in human growth and behaviour through self-reflection and applied learning.

COURSE FORMAT

This course is intended to support social work students in developing their understanding of the complex interplay of forces that influence human development and to prepare them for applying this knowledge in professional practice.

In the weeks that follow we will be drawing upon the text to examine each phase of the human life span from prenatal development through to very late adulthood. Through in-class discussions and group activities, content from the readings and lectures will be applied in the context of social work assessment and potential interventions.

A variety of instructional methods will be used including formal lectures, student presentations, and group discussion. Students will have multiple opportunities to practice skills required in the field. Students are further encouraged to enhance learning for themselves and others by contributing their own resource materials, knowledge, and experience to class discussions and activities.

ASSESSMENTS:

Attendance & Participation

Punctual attendance and full participation are essential in achieving the learning outcomes of this course. You are strongly encouraged to attend all classes, be prepared to participate (by completing the readings and assignments on the dates due) and to engage with others in an open and collaborative manner. Full participation will not only benefit you, but will also enhance the learning environment for your student colleagues. Please see the course Moodle page to understand more about how your participation in class will be evaluated.

IMPORTANT: Students missing more than two classes will lose 5% of their total grade for each additional class missed. For example, if you miss three classes, you will have 5% taken off your final grade; four classes will result in a 10% deduction, etc. If you miss more than two classes, you may choose to speak with the instructor and ask for an additional assignment or assignments to complete in lieu of a deduction in your final mark. It is at the instructor's discretion whether to grant this request and to determine the content and format of the assignment. This additional assignment must be completed satisfactorily prior to the end of term.

It is your responsibility to ensure that you have signed the attendance sheet at the beginning of each class, as this is the document that will be used to determine whether deductions for absenteeism will be applied.

Assignments

Detailed description of assignments and associated requirements will be provided on the first day of class. Please note - all written assignments must meet the standard for accuracy in grammar and punctuation that is expected at a university level. Written assignments must also be well organized and typed/computer generated. Errors in spelling, grammar, and punctuation will affect your mark. You must use APA format.

Due dates: Assignments are to be submitted by email to the instructor, and by midnight on the date the assignment is due. Any hard copies of work submitted outside of class time must be signed and dated by Applied Arts or Health, Education and Human Services administrative staff. If you have serious extenuating circumstances please speak with your instructor in advance of the due date, regarding the possibility of an extension.

Rewrites: The instructor is under no obligation to provide you opportunities to re-do your work after it has been submitted for marking. If you are given an opportunity to re-submit an assignment for marking, the highest grade you can obtain is 70%.

Assignment 1 - Developmental Road Map Presentation and Papers (Total 30%)

Early on in the course, you will be guided through the process of creating a visual representation of a personal developmental road map that identifies and demonstrates your understanding of some of the key influences that have impacted your own development from infancy through to young adulthood. You will share your road map in small groups with your student colleagues.

For the written component of this assignment you will be submitting three "mini-papers" rather than one large one. Evaluation will be based upon a demonstrated understanding and application of course material in the context of your own developmental journey.

Assignment 2 - Major Paper: Development in a Social Context (25%) Due April

For this assignment students will be using Erikson's psychosocial stages as a theoretical lens through which to consider and explicate the impact of the social environment (i.e., familial, cultural, socio-political) on the social and emotional development of an adult. By applying and critiquing Erikson's contribution in context of social work assessment and potential interventions, you will demonstrate your understanding of the theory, as well as your capacity for critical thinking in applying theory to practice.

Tests

There will be a midterm exam followed by a series of weekly online quizzes. There will be NO FINAL EXAM for this course. Both the midterm exam and the quizzes will be comprised of multiple choice and short answer questions based upon assigned readings and/or formal lectures.

EVALUATION:

Assignments	55%
Midterm Exam	25%
Weekly Quizzes	15%
Participation	5%
Total	100%

REQUIRED TEXT

Hutchison, E.D. (2019). Dimensions of Human Behavior: The Changing Life course. (6th ed.). Thousand Oaks, USA: Sage Publications, Inc.

SUPPLEMENTARY MATERIALS

Any additional readings assigned will be provided by the instructor or placed on reserve in the library.

ACADEMIC AND STUDENT CONDUCT

Information on academic standing and student rights and responsibilities can be found in the current Academic Regulations that are posted on the Student Services/ Admissions & Registration web page.

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is a serious academic offence. Plagiarism occurs when a student submits work for credit that includes the words, ideas, or data of others, without citing the source from which the material is taken. Plagiarism can be the deliberate use of a whole piece of work, but more frequently it occurs when students fail to acknowledge and document sources from which they have taken material according to an accepted manuscript style (e.g., APA, CSE, MLA, etc.). Students may use sources which are public domain or licensed under Creative Commons; however, academic documentation standards must still be followed. Except with explicit permission of the instructor, resubmitting work which has previously received credit is also considered plagiarism. Students who plagiarize material for assignments will receive a mark of zero (F) on the assignment and may fail the course. Plagiarism may also result in dismissal from a program of study or the College.

YUKON FIRST NATIONS CORE COMPETENCY

Yukon College recognizes that a greater understanding and awareness of Yukon First Nations history, culture and journey towards self-determination will help to build positive relationships among all Yukon citizens. As a result, to graduate from ANY Yukon College program, you will be required to achieve core competency in knowledge of Yukon First Nations. For details, please see www.yukoncollege.yk.ca/yfnccr.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION

Reasonable accommodations are available for students requiring an academic accommodation to fully participate in this class. These accommodations are available for students with a documented disability, chronic condition or any other grounds specified in section 8.0 of the Yukon College Academic Regulations (available on the Yukon College website). It is the student's responsibility to seek these accommodations. If a student requires an academic accommodation, he/she should contact the Learning Assistance Centre \(LAC\): lac@yukoncollege.yk.ca.
